The Brazos County Health Department has advised that mosquitoes collected from the Texas A&M golf course have recently tested positive for the West Nile Virus (WNV). Please note that all of Brazos County is considered positive for WNV, but extra precaution should be taken in areas where mosquitoes are confirmed carriers.

Texas A&M continues to address mosquito control on campus, but you can take additional steps to protect yourself:

- Avoid standing water
- Wear insect-repellant that contains DEET
- Avoid outdoor activities at dusk and dawn, the most active times for mosquitoes
- Dress in long sleeves and pants when outdoors
